

KMT MOVE GOV'T TO TAIWAN

Cabinet To Function
In Taipei Today

GUERRILLA OPERATIONS

Taipei, December 8.
Premier Yen Hsi-shan announced that the Nationalist Cabinet will start functioning at Taipei tomorrow.

Nationalists
Moving Out
Of Kunming

Disorder and confusion have broken out in Kunming as Nationalist troops began moving out of the city. The Nationalist troops, which had been in the city since the fall of the city to the Communists, are now being ordered to leave. The Nationalist troops are being ordered to leave the city by the Nationalist government. The Nationalist government is now in Taipei. The Nationalist government is now in Taipei. The Nationalist government is now in Taipei.

New Zealand
Cabinet Announced

Wellington, December 8.
Mr. Sydney G. Holland, whose National Party defeated the Labour Party in last month's general election, announced his Cabinet today. He said he would be Minister and Minister of Finance. The other posts are: Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Agriculture, Mr. K. J. Holyoake; Minister of Labour, Mr. W. Sullivan; Attorney General and Minister of Justice, Mr. T. G. Webb; Minister of Education, Mr. R. M. Aitken; Minister of Internal Affairs, Mr. W. A. Boddie; Minister of Customs, Industries and Commerce, Mr. C. M. Bowden; Postmaster General, Mr. W. J. Broadfoot; Minister of Lands, Mr. E. B. Campbell; Minister of External Affairs, Mr. F. W. Doidge; Minister of Works, Transport and Railways, Mr. W. S. Goosman; Minister of Defence and Rehabilitation, Mr. T. L. Macdonald; Minister of Health, Mr. J. T. Watts.

The Weather

At 0600 GMT (1 p.m. HKST) the tropical storm is centred about 850 miles E of Saigon station, or moving slowly W. Another tropical depression 600 miles W of Mindanao is moving slowly WNW. The anti-cyclone dominates China, Japan and the Indian Ocean. Today's Forecast: Moderate NW to E winds, slowly with scattered light rain or drizzle early, becoming fair. Tomorrow's Weather: Partly cloudy. Minimum 61.2 deg. Fahrenheit. Maximum 67.8 deg. Fahrenheit. Rainfall: 0.1 inch. Sunshine: 0.1 hour. Humidity: 75 per cent. Total cloud cover: 1-2000 ft. to 15,000 ft. in some cases, considerable rain.

He said Chiang Kai-shek is concentrating on the military side and not considering resuming the Presidency. He said such a possibility was not completely ruled out. Chiang is still in Chengtu. Chiang Kai-shek is not going to resume the Presidency of Nationalist China—for the present at least—it was reliably learned here today.

Movements
Of Troops

Earlier in the afternoon, an American pilot of a CAT aircraft said that while flying over Chengtu he noticed a lot of Nationalist troops travelling southward from Chengtu on highways, whereas from the North West, also on highways, some more Nationalist troops were pouring into Chengtu. "Almost on every highway, there were people and troops either travelling into or out of the city," the pilot said. "One could hardly determine whether the Nationalists were reinforcing the city or withdrawing from it."

Chang Chun
Resigns

The Cabinet also accepted the resignation of General Chang Chun as Director of South West China headquarters. This job was given to General Ku Chu-tung in addition to his present duties as Chief of Staff. (Premier Yen arrived in Taipei this afternoon to prepare for moving the rest of his Government to the Taiwan city.) The Nationalist intention to continue fighting on the mainland through guerrilla operations was clearly indicated by cabinet appointments. Two guerrilla route forces were designated to operate under the South West Headquarters. General Wang Tsang-shu will command the First Route Army. General Tang Shih-tung will direct the Second Route. In his post of Director of South West China Headquarters, General Ku Chu-tung will be assisted by Generals Hu Tsung-nan and Yang San as deputy directors. The Nationalists apparently are planning their hopes on the possibility of overcoming Communist forces just as the Reds overcame them—starting from guerrilla operations against well-entrenched armies.—Associated Press.

Exodus Continues

The exodus from Kunming and Chengtu continued yesterday as 10 aircraft, mostly Civil Air Transport, planes chartered by the Chinese Government, arrived in Hong Kong from the Red-threatened Chinese cities with more than 400 refugees. The first aircraft from the Chinese mainland arrived a little after 2 p.m. Later other aircraft arrived at about 10 minute intervals. Among many Government officials who arrived here from Chengtu yesterday was Mr. Ho Tung, Deputy to the Minister of Interior. He arrived on a CAT plane chartered by the Executive Yuan. He told reporters that the situation in Chengtu was still very calm when he left there in the morning. Despite earlier reports brought here by air refugees saying that Chiang Kai-shek's private aircraft is preparing to leave Chengtu, Mr. Ho said that the Communist plane will remain in Chengtu to direct defensive war against the Reds. He further said that in Chengtu the Nationalist troops have very good morale. However their only handicap in fighting against the Reds is that the Reds outnumber the Nationalists. Red vanguards are about 35 miles from Chengtu, he said.

Goose-Step In Indonesia

Goose-stepping soldiers of the Republic of Indonesia passing in review in Soerakarta, Java, after the city was turned over to them by the Dutch through United Nations forces in Java a few months ago. Now they have been outfitted smartly as the nucleus of a new National Army for Indonesia. Their stiff-legged style of marching was picked up from the Japanese during their occupation of Indonesia. Coolie Sentenced To Death For Murder

Sir Leslie Gibson, Chief Justice, yesterday donned the black cap and pronounced the death sentence on Wong Yiu, earth coolie, at the Criminal Sessions, when the jury returned a verdict of "guilty of murder". On hearing the sentence, the accused—who is also known as "Ko Lo" (Tall Fellow)—burst out in protest and began to lament aloud.

Ships Race
To Pick Up
Angus Ward

Tokyo, December 8.
Two American vessels were at sea today to evacuate the U.S. Consul General, Mr. Angus Ward, from Communist China, but there appeared to be some doubt which would be the first to do so. The Department officials here said the latest arrangement was for Mr. Ward and the American members of his party to board the Lakeland Victory, which was to be taken on board the Pacific Transport, they said. The United States Charge d'Affaires in Hong Kong said yesterday he understood the Lakeland Victory was not committed to pick up Mr. Ward. Agents for the Pacific Transport said it was under orders to take on board the Consul's party. The Lakeland Victory, which left Kobe yesterday, received orders today to proceed directly to Taku Bar, off Tientsin. That eliminated a stop at Pusan, Korea. The vessel was ordered to put in at Pusan on the out-bound trip to load commercial cargo. The Pacific Transport left Hong Kong yesterday bound for Taku Bar. Both ships were due off Taku at about the same time—perhaps on Saturday, December 10. It was not clear yet whether they were making a race for it. Mr. Alfred T. Wellborn, who now is in charge of the Tientsin Consulate, wired The Associated Press yesterday that the War party tentatively is to board the Lakeland Victory on December 12. Eleven American correspondents and photographers are on board the Lakeland Victory, on the assumption it will be the first choice.—Associated Press.

Seven Killed
As Bus Caught
In Cross-Fire

Manila, December 8.
Seven persons, including a four-month-old boy and child, died in a blaze of gunfire which struck a bus near Lipa City, Batangas Province, tonight. Responsibility for the shooting has not been definitely established. A "Philippines Herald" correspondent who was an eyewitness, reported the bus was caught in a cross-fire between a Philippine Constabulary patrol and an unidentified group of dissidents. In Manila, Constabulary Commander Brigadier-General Alberto Ramos denied that the Constabulary was involved, contending the bus was ambushed by dissidents. Student Killed. Among the dead is Edmundo Leviste, third year student at De La Salle College in Manila, who was on his way home to visit his father, Dr. Angel Leviste, brother of Governor Feliciano Leviste, of Batangas Province. The "Herald" correspondent said he was in a car about 200 yards away when a Constabulary patrol under the command of Colonel Angel Magallanes and an unidentified group of dissidents began firing at each other. The bus was caught in the middle. The police did not identify the persons who fired the shots.—Associated Press.

Catalina Makes Night Landing
At Kai Tak

A Macao Air Transport Catalina which left Hong Kong for Kowloon yesterday morning was forced back by bad weather and had to make a night landing at Kai Tak at 10.50 p.m. yesterday. The plane, piloted by Captain R. S. Behn, left for Kowloon at 7.22 a.m. yesterday. About halfway to Kowloon bad weather was encountered—ice formed on the wings while the plane was flying at 14,000 feet—and the pilot decided to turn back to Hong Kong when the plane's high frequency detector failed. Flares were lit at Kai Tak airport and the Catalina came in on the RAF radar. The plane had only enough petrol left for twenty minutes of flying. Twenty-five Chinese were killed and another 14 were wounded in the same raid, the Radio said. "It further reported that Communist-land forces had struck into the heart of Szechuan Province, taking Nanking in their stride. Nanking is a sugar producing centre, half way between Chungking and Chengtu. It fell three days ago, the Radio claimed.—Reuter.

Red Control Of China Travel
Service Looms

The arrival of Mr. Wai-bin Tong, President of the China Travel Service, from Shanghai by the ss. Hainrich Jenson yesterday crystallised persistent rumours that China's leading travel agency is preparing to reorganise. Although it was officially reported that Mr. Tong is here on an inspection tour, reliable sources confided that the President from the Shanghai Head Office will discuss with local officials the reorganisation of the service under supervision from Shanghai.

Junk Fired On
Near HK

It was reported yesterday that a small Nationalist naval craft fired several shots at an ordinary motor junk off Lin Tin Island on Wednesday, in Chinese waters. At the approach of Marine Police Launch No. 3, patrolling British waters adjacent to the vicinity, the naval craft stopped chasing the junk and diverted its course.

Railway Cars
Returned To
Canton Reds

Nine railway passenger cars left Kowloon on Wednesday afternoon for Canton in compliance with a Communist request that they be returned. The cars were in Kowloon on October 14 when Canton fell to the Communists and through traffic was suspended. Negotiations have been proceeding for their return since then. Mr. Trevor said as far as he knows the return of these cars does not herald the resumption of through traffic, because the Communist authorities, who control the Chinese section of the railway, have not given him such an indication.

Coal Delivered
To Canton

He confirmed that 8,000 tons of coal have been delivered to Canton by rail, and another 8,000 tons are en route. Mr. Trevor said he has been in continuous negotiation with the Communists for resumption of through traffic so as to spare passengers the inconvenience of walking nearly a mile from the British border to the Chinese to board the Communist train. He said negotiations have been smooth and courteous but have not yet borne fruit.

ANXIETY OVER
STEWART'S CONDITION

Singapore, December 8.
The condition of Mr. Duncan George Stewart, Governor of Sarawak, deteriorated during the day and is giving cause for some anxiety, a bulletin issued here reported today. Mr. Stewart was stabbed by a Malay student on Saturday.—Reuter.

Santa Claus Flies To Harry Yip

Christmas this year has come early to Harry Yip, the Toronto boy now in Hong Kong, and it arrived in true Christmas fashion with Santa Claus riding through the sky.

Harry's Santa was Captain Craig Stevenson, pilot of the Canadian Pacific Air Lines plane which brought Toronto's Christmas box to Harry on Wednesday.

The gift was subscribed by readers of the Toronto "Telegram" after the "China Mail" story of Harry Yip in Hong Kong had reached Canada through Dave Rogers of the "Regina Leader Post," Saskatchewan. The "Telegram" sent the money—$498.85—through Mr. J. G. Twist, Hong Kong representative of CPAL, by hand of Captain Stevenson, who flew in early on Wednesday morning and was met by Harry at the airport.

Harry was all dressed up for the occasion. He had on his best suit, the herringbone "made in Canada" he boasts, which he was wearing when he caused a minor stir at the airport early last August. His head of obstinate hair was well plastered down and a new pair of shoes finished off his stylish attire.

Needless to say, the Toronto boy was full of excitement at the adventure of receiving something from "home" given by the "fellow back there," to put it in his own words. Harry is also looking forward to a grand shopping spree with his guardian, Mr. Wong Cheong, whom he calls "Ah Sook" (uncle) in whose hands he entrusted the "Telegram's" cheque.

In Hong Kong now for more than four months, Harry has picked up a good knowledge of the Chinese language which was totally foreign to him when he first arrived.

The lad is now able to speak with reasonable fluency although the Canadian accent in his speech—in English as well as in Chinese—remains predominant.

Harry was sent to Hong Kong in late summer by his Canadian mother to learn the language and customs of his Chinese father.

Entertainment Of Troops

Some 3,000 British troops have been entertained during the past three months at functions sponsored by the Forces Civilian Entertainment and Welfare Committee.

The Committee deals with invitations of the Hong Kong Club, the Nine Dragons Services Club and with entertainment on the Mainland.

The biggest individual contribution received by the Committee is the return trips to Macao made available by the Ta Hing Company, limited.

Ten Servicemen are taken daily to and from Macao by the company's ss. Cheung Hing. By the end of the year more than 600 members of the Forces will have made a return visit to the Portuguese Colony.

In the period under review, 1,200 Servicemen were entertained at swimming parties. The boats and crew were provided by the Hong Kong Eastern Shipping Company, the Hong Kong Yacht Club, the Hong Kong Whampoa Dock Company, the Hong Kong Motorboat Company and Mr. H. Rutledge.

Some 700 members of the Forces were invited to private parties for dinner, tea, luncheon, swimming and bridge games.

During the summer months, the Ladies Recreation Club and the Sixty-6 Club entertained about 500 troops to tea, swimming and use of Club facilities.

The Committee stated in a release yesterday that it wishes to thank the helpers and donors and hopes they will continue to contribute in the New Year. The Committee also welcomes correspondence from those interested in inviting troops to their homes and entertaining them.

X'MAS BOX FOR HARRY

A Christmas Box subscribed by readers of the Toronto "Telegram" was delivered to Harry Yip in Hong Kong by CAPTAIN Craig Stevenson, pilot of the CPAL plane which came in on Wednesday morning. Picture shows the Toronto boy receiving the gift from Captain Stevenson as Mr. J. G. Twist, Hong Kong representative of CPAL, looks on.

Correspondent Says The Church Has Betrayed Its Trust

A correspondent writing in the current issue of "St. John's Review" takes the editor to task for publishing an article in the previous issue on the Hong Kong Defence Force.

He says that the Church has betrayed its trust in failing to denounce war as a practice completely hateful to God.

His letter in full states: "Things have come to a pass when a magazine which is supposedly representative of Christian opinion in Hong Kong can descend to printing an article such as appeared under the title HKDF in your November issue. Ever since the Church founded the alliance with secular authority which has lusted from the accession of Constantine to the present day, it has betrayed its trust in failing to denounce war as a practice completely hateful to God, whenever there was the least possibility of war being declared, for I find it more than faintly disgusting to read a Christian newspaper apparently openly advocating that its subscribers should join an organization entirely devoted to fighting."

"Pacifism is not a popular creed; but it is a Christian one, and the few periodicals which like your own, are able to put principles before popularity, might perhaps take advantage of the privilege."

"The Hong Kong Defence Force is a typical example of an institution of nominal public appeal which in actual fact wastes resources on a totally disproportionate scale. Everyone is agreed in the worldly camp that Hong Kong should help to defend itself; but few reckon on the wild expense the business is running us into, and the miserable results there would be to show for it even if those who applaud would find the energy to join."

"Do Something For China?"

"Three million dollars have been appropriated to the use of the Force, and when one thinks of the desperate need for houses and the crying shortage of schools, one really wonders how such a decision could even have been made."

"If England wishes to retain Hong Kong she must do more than inhabit the place than tell her how lucky they are to be secure under the Union Jack."

"Money spent on schools and houses is constructive; it lasts for 50 years and more; it binds China to the British flag as no force will ever do; but in three years time money spent on training a band of a thousand local defence volunteers might as well have been poured into the depths of Kowloon Bay."

"If Christianity is to compete successfully with Communism it will not be by using its own weapons of force and hate."

"The very fact that the Church has for 17 centuries condoned the practice of fratricide glorified by the name of war appears to have dulled the conscience of Christians to the basic of pacifism with which the Bible and more especially the Gospels breathe."

"Yet it is hard to see how an honest Christian can believe that all men are his brothers, sons of one father, whose commandment is that 'we love one another,' while at the same time he is training to kill a lot of benighted 'Chinas' whom some madman may send across the Shumchun."

"The truth is not that they are disloyal, but just that they don't think of it that way; and they don't think of it that way because the Church, and in this instance 'St. John's Review' is not prepared to lay aside the sin of courting popularity which does so easily beset it, and stand up and preach the truth."

"We are fortunate enough in Hong Kong to have a set of Ministers whose care is for truth, and who are bold enough to preach it in public with son."

Importance Of Hong Kong Stressed By Church Journal

Because the need of Hong Kong by other governments grows with the passage of time, its position is daily becoming more unique and more vital, states "St. John's Review" in an editorial.

The editorial added that it is unique as a clearing house par excellence for the East and West on the one hand and for Nationalist China and Communist China on the other.

It is vital because the need for Hong Kong by various governments grows with the passage of time. A year ago Hong Kong was still sharing with Shanghai the honour of being the premier port of the Far East (Tokyo being temporarily under a cloud).

Today Hong Kong stands with-out a rival. But this only makes the Colony more indispensable than ever, as now there is no other city in this part of the world where governments (both de jure and de facto) could obtain all the services of a modern city complete with banking, educational and hospital amenities as well as political asylum and police protection.

Who would have thought a century ago, when Hong Kong was still a barren rock, that it was destined to be a city which is doing the job of a modern state? This raises the question of the organization of the island community to play its part adequately as the supplier of all needs, whether political, material, spiritual or sentimental.

It is a curious fact of history that great empires which live on their capital, on its heritage of the past, and reap to be creative, soon lose their position of eminence. The law of history applies to small communities as well as to large ones.

The insular position of Hong Kong renders it peculiarly liable to resting on its laurels and being satisfied with things as they are.

What was good enough for our fathers cannot be good enough for the greater demands of the atomic age. Hence it is essential for communal growth that the best minds of the United Kingdom should regularly be invited to come to the Colony to stimulate and vitalise the body politic.

It would be money well spent if (say) the General Chamber of Commerce, the various Chinese merchants' chambers and guilds and some of the leading Hong Kong merchants would jointly create a fund every year sufficient to invite successfully six leading men of women from the United Kingdom, each to stay a month or two here for the exchange of ideas.

This will give the public mind of the mother country a chance to appreciate Hong Kong's vital position in the world and at the same time let the people here learn from a stream of distinguished minds the best ways to develop to deserve and preserve the position of eminence which the vicissitudes of fortune have thrust upon us.

Above all, it will enable our visitors when they return home to influence public opinion on their behalf. These six yearly guests should be chosen for their learning and leadership.

Three of them could be Members of Parliament, while the other three could be taken from a list such as the following: Lord Lindsay, Sir Walter Moberly, Lord Beveridge, J. B. Priestley, Miss Barbara Ward, Mrs. V. L. Stacks, Dr. C. E. M. Joad and Professor Arnold Toynbee.

The British Council might be asked to assist in the organization of these visits.

Money Well Spent
We have a large number of highly trained, high Government officials. The first that they are sent to Hong Kong proves that Whitehall considers this important for the healthy growth of this outpost of the Empire.

What is needed is something to regularize HKDF, was an unfortunate phrase.

"When things come to a crisis, the Christian is found on his knees and the enemies of God come out against him with swords and staves. The Hong Kong Regiment will hardly be equipped with more."

ARMED ROBBERY AT GOLDSMITHS
Last evening, at 8.45, four or five men armed with revolvers entered the Wing Sang Goldsmith Shop at 28, Ngan Chai Loong Road, Kowloon City, and took away HK$15,000 in gold and jewelry. It is something of a shock to a showcase one of the robbers cut his wrist on the glass. All the robbers ran into the hills surrounding Kai Tak.

A report of this robbery was made to the Kowloon City police.

MOTOR JUNK SINKS
The motor junk "Yee On," which left Shatin on December 3 for Swatow with passengers, sank at a point South East of the Tai To group at about 11.30 p.m. on the following day.

Bodies were not recovered at or before the sinking, so have been awarded.

Unconfirmed reports said that there were about 20 passengers aboard the motor junk. No more than 10 survivors were picked up after the tragic incident.

CAT Plane Still Missing
Up to a date, last night the whereabouts of the Civil Air Transport aircraft piloted by Captain J. McCowan which has been missing since it left Hong Kong for Kunning on Sunday had still not been ascertained.

An official of the CAT said yesterday that the missing plane has widened. He added that Captain Robert Snoddy is now in Hong Kong as the plane is being sent out. Areas to the North and South of Hainan and also the area of Bangkok are being thoroughly searched.

The local CAT office is expecting a report of the search from Captain Snoddy some time today.

CNAC DISPUTE
A release by an official of the pro-Peking faction of CNAC yesterday denied that there were several hundred CNAC employees who had registered with the Peking Management. Mr. Shen Toshiro, on Wednesday. The release said that there were only nine who had gone to Mr. Shen's office at 7, rue House Street, and they included those who had already been dismissed by the Peking Management.

The official also challenged Mr. Shen's office to publish the names of the several hundreds of employees who have registered with them.

According to the release the Peking Management has paid the wages of their employees for the first half of December on Wednesday.

ACTION FOR RECOVERY OF ROOM DISMISSED

The action brought by Mr. H. K. Woo, local solicitor, of Woo and Woo, for the recovery of possession of a room in the Bank of China Building was dismissed with costs yesterday at the Supreme Court.

The Chief Justice, Sir Leslie Gibson, found that—contrary to plaintiff's claim—the latter had accepted the position of sub-tenant of the first defendants in the action, Wings and Company.

"I am of the opinion that, by accepting the sub-tenancy from the first defendants and by going into possession and paying rent, the plaintiff has clearly precluded himself from alleging that he is otherwise than a sub-tenant," Sir Leslie declared.

Mr. B. A. Bernacchi appeared for the plaintiff on the latter's instructions. Mr. Bernacchi also represented the executor of the estate of one Foo Sik, landlord, on the instructions of Bruton and Company. Mr. A. J. L. Lam, was for Wings and Company.

Woo sought a declaration that the tenancy of the disputed room, No. 408, in the building was held in trust by the defendants in his name. He claimed Wings and Company transferred the tenancy from his name into their own.

Plaintiff asked for a further declaration that he is entitled to refuse rent in excess of the sum accepted previously by defendant to the landlord.

Wings and Company denied holding the tenancy in trust for the plaintiff, claiming he was only a sub-tenant.

The Chief Justice added that he felt bound to say now that the action was concluded, that he should almost certainly have exercised his discretion against the plaintiff in any event if the landlord had not been joined.

Accepted Position

After going through the facts as set out by both sides, Sir Leslie turned to the question as to whether the plaintiff had accepted the position of sub-tenant of the first defendant. "I am quite clear that he did," he remarked.

"I am of the opinion that, by accepting the sub-tenancy from the first defendants and by going into possession and paying rent," the Chief Justice concluded, "the plaintiff has clearly precluded himself from alleging that he is otherwise than a sub-tenant. The action is accordingly dismissed with costs."

DON'T ACCEPT A LOSER

MANY a player notes at a glance that he can afford to take the apparently sure losers in one or more suits if he can play some other suit successfully, perhaps he trumps. In other words, he would then have just enough tricks to make his contract. But there is no certainty about managing to play the crucial suit without loss of a trick, he should study a bit further. Maybe he can find a way to avoid one of the other seemingly sure losers, so that he will still be ok even if the main suit fails.

Now his case was hopeless, as West returned the club J, knocking out the A. When the inevitable diamond loser to the A was accepted, the defenders scored one trick each in clubs and hearts to beat him.

The contract could have been safeguarded against an unfortunate spade guess by eliminating the chance of a club loser. Safer play would have been to take two top trumps, forgetting about the finesse, and then lead diamonds until the A was driven out. The fourth diamond then would have been available for a club discard. By this method South would have limited his losses to one in each suit except clubs, in addition to which he would have had the possible chance of dropping the trump Q.

Tomorrow's Problem

S 10 8 5
H J 6 5
D 10 6 4
C A K J

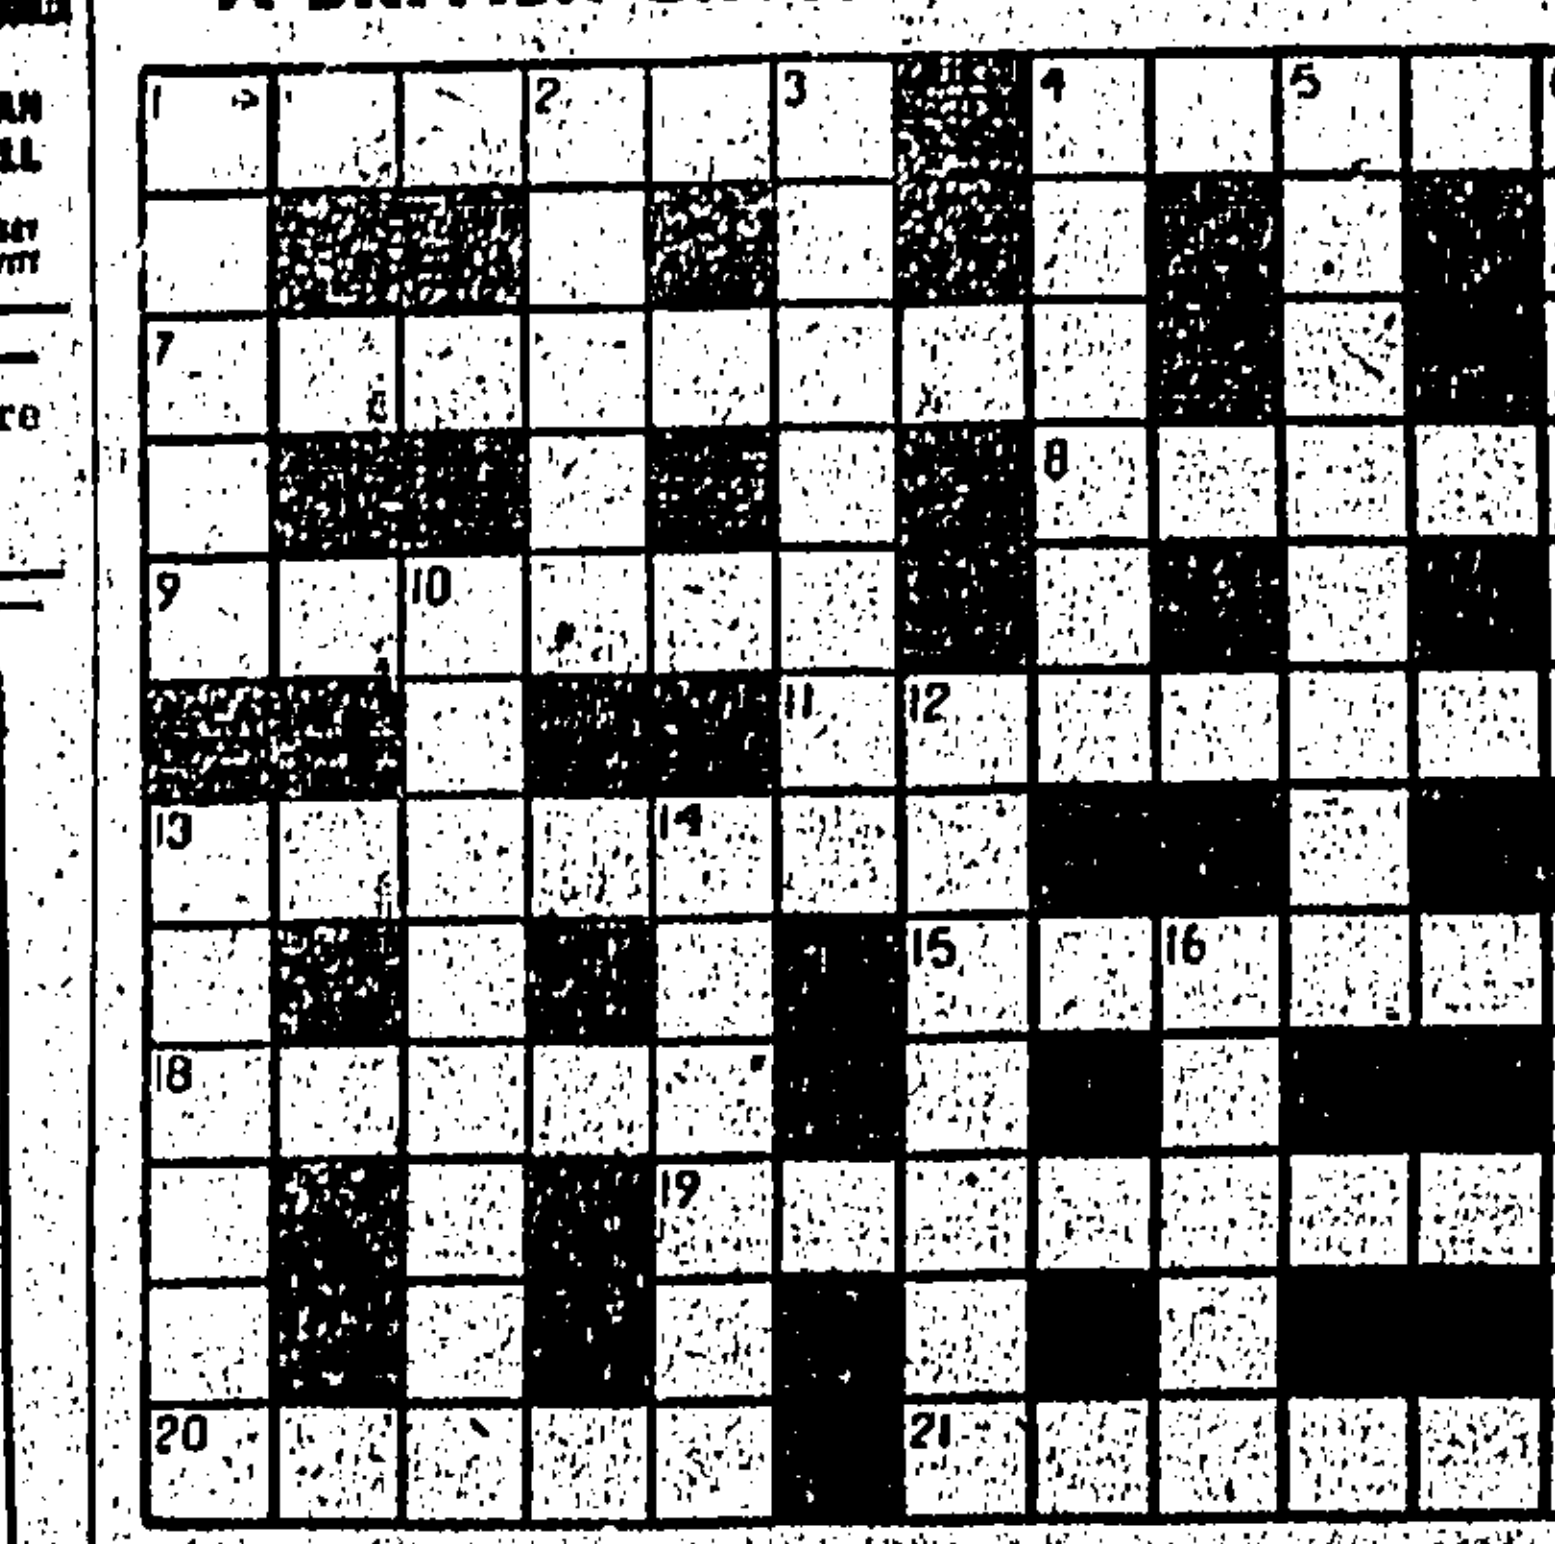

S 4 2
H K 9 8
D 9 5 2
C Q 6 3

South caused his own defeat almost before you could say "Jack Robinson." He won the heart K lead with the A, noted the presence of one loser in each side suit, then decided to try to avoid a trump loser. He scored the spade K and finessed the J to the Q.

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable).

If West leads the heart 4, dummy putting on the 6, how can East know what to play to beat South's 4-Spades?

Romantic Comedy Now At The Roxy

Rating: ***

"That Wonderful Urge," starting today at the Roxy Theatre, is a smartly paced, modern, romantic farce in which the stars have been given the go-ahead signal and made the most of it.

Tyrone Power is a handsome newspaper reporter who does a series of scathing articles about frivolous heiress, Gene Tierney. What happens from that point is fast, furious and delightful.

When Sara Farley (Gene Tierney), heiress to a vast grocery fortune, runs off to Sun Valley for a vacation, Thomas Jefferson Tyler (Tyrone Power), ace reporter for the New York "Chronicle," pursues her to gather more information for his series of scathing articles about her life and loves. At Sun Valley, Sara enjoys herself in the company of her Aunt Cornelia (Lucile Watson) and Count Andre de Guyon (Reginald Gardiner).

Tyler, posing as Tom Thomas, proceeds to make a play for the lovely Sara. They see a great deal of each other, and Sara, who is falling in love with him, leaves him to be the one man who is not after her money. When a newspaper photograph reveals that Tom is her unknown biographer, Sara is terribly angry with him and Tom checks out of the hotel to return to New York.

Vowing vengeance, Sara flies East and when she lands in New York tells the reporters that she is married to Tom and has inherited a fortune on him. When Tom's editor hears this he has him thrown out of the "Chronicle" office.

Tom is hard pressed to prove that he isn't married to Sara. As a last resort he considers marrying a girl friend, Jessica (Arleen Whelan), but at the marriage bureau Sara appears and succeeds in convincing the clerk that Tom would be committing bigamy if he married Jessica.

At a party of Sara's society friends Tom puts on an act in order to embarrass her. Sara leaves with Andre, but Tom beats her home, and after a scene she promises that she will explain to him the slip as they are driving to the "Chronicle" office.

Tom finally convinces his editor that he is on the level and a suit for libel is filed against Sara by Tom with the help of the paper. The case goes to trial before Judge Parker (Gene Lockhart).

Another battle ensues, but both come to realize that they are in love, and melt into each other's arms.

OAKIE AND CHAPLIN
"Democracy Stunk"

Chaplin's "Dictator" Packing Them In

Rating: *****

To those who, for one reason or another, failed to see the pre-war screening of Charlie Chaplin's "The Great Dictator," a word of advice: "Don't miss it this time," while to those who have already seen it we wish to recommend another two hours of top entertainment.

"The Great Dictator," perhaps the greatest satire ever to be filmed, is now at the King's Theatre, packing the crowds in.

In brief, the film's plot is about a dictator named Hynkel (who looks suspiciously like one Adolf Hitler, although, in the best Hollywood tradition any resemblance between the characters of the picture and any known person, living or dead, is said to be purely coincidental) and his attempts to exterminate the Jews who are responsible for all the world's ills from rising prices to falling stock market dividends. While Hynkel and his henchmen are busily engaged in dividing up the world "according to plan" (Hynkel himself says democracy "stunk" which, in the English language means "let's shoot the common man"), a funny little man, a shell-shocked barber of World War I vintage, appears on the scene and proves to be a veritable messiah to his people, the Jews. Since barber and Hynkel look so alike that in an identical set of twins, it is inevitable that Hynkel eventually becomes the hated Jewish barber, and the barber the leader of the "master race".

While "The Great Dictator" is a hilarious comedy, it is at the same time also a satire on Government and a call to humanity that slaves are made, not born, and that freedom can and must be won. It is in our present day, as it was in the days of Nazi Germany, a timely masterpiece with a message for everybody, young and old, showing the good and the bad in man urging one and all to conquer the bad so that all the finer qualities in humanity may reign for the better.

If you see Charlie Chaplin's "The Great Dictator" and go away regarding it as an excellent comedy, you will be only half correct. View the picture as an appeal to yourself, and you will discover that, besides hearty laughs, you will find in it a maxim that is as old as religion.

PLATFORMS COME TO HONG KONG

Plato described Democracy
as a charming form of government, full of variety and disorder, dispensing a sort of equality to equals and unequals alike. One may not be so sure about its charms but never more sure than in these totalitarian days of its deep and abiding values. Parliaments are its topmost towers, but its foundations lie deep in village and town, and in the aspirations of the common man. In its own way the parish council is no less a part of it than the town or county council. The Tailors of Tooley Street were good democrats and had a right to their views. They belong to the Grand Comedy of Political Manners because of a certain largeness of gesture:
"We, the People of England."

It is a matter of some moment that democratic institutions have begun to develop in this small Colony, which no longer lives to itself alone.
Reference has been made to the role of the Hong Kong Boy as a link between East and West. The principle is true in far wider application. The world is confronted with two great rivalries in the fundamental way of life, and even Hong Kong cannot stay beyond their reach.

An Indian celebrity who did not owe his fame to politics once went on a pilgrimage.
He visited all the great cities and ports where the men from the West first settled in the pioneer days, all the way from Bombay to Yokohama. He formed the conclusion that the institutions they set up in these places, from sanitary boards to newspapers, had more influence on the Asian peoples around them than all the oratory and preachments of Macaulay and his fellow-reformers.

This remains true today.
The peoples of Asia, caught in the grip of the rival world systems, watch the evolution of self-government and democratic institutions in India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Burma, and Malaya far more intently than they studied, first, the development of democracy in Britain, and then, during the war years, in the self-governing Dominions. One Municipal or Legislative Council set down in their midst is now of more influence upon the people than all the institutions of Democracy put together in the parent lands in which they have existed for centuries.

These institutions do not spring into full maturity at once. They have to begin with the humble habilliments of infancy. They must be expected to indulge in the day-dreams of adolescence. No doubt most people smiled broadly—and, we trust, not unsympathetically—as they studied the 'Platform' of the Hong Kong Reform Club
when it was published a week ago. There was a charming insouciance about it. Here were presented, not in the dull and detailed form of the Company prospectus, but in much

Signed Not
To Carry Off
PyramidsBy FREDERICK
HUDSON

Everything happens to Jack Palfreyman. Robbed of his coat, watch and wallet in Paris, dogged by security police in Spain, held up at gun point in North Africa, he is today speeding through the Western Desert on the next lap of his 60,000-mile motor-cycle round-the-world journey to show that "British is best."

Since he left his home in Chorlton Road, Manchester, in September, Jack, 41-year-old mechanic, has run into one adventure after another.

But it was Sir Stafford Cripps who put him in the biggest jam.
Because of devotion to Jack, found himself almost penniless and had to make an 800-mile dash from Madrid to Gibraltar with little food or sleep.

Robbed

Police who came to his aid in Gibraltar, found him food and a hotel bed.

For Jack the round-the-world trip is the realisation of an 11-year-old dream. He planned to set out in 1938, but the war put a stop to it.

Armed with more than 20
vials and hundreds of letters of introduction to agents of British motor-cycles throughout the world, he arrived in Paris without a hitch.

Then at a restaurant his watch, coat, and wallet containing 10,000 francs (£10) were whisked away while his back was turned in the cloakroom.

In Spain he found that security police—"arrogant, jackbooted types, reminiscent of the Hitler regime"—were more than a little interested in him.

For every three civilians Spain today has two armed soldiers, he told me.

Tommy-gunners were perched on balconies at every strategic point, even in secondary roads.
One was "covered" immediately on entering a bank.

For every three passports were of little consequence. It was the signed pieces of paper issued by the security police and permitting travel from one point to another that were all-important.

Without them it would be impossible to get through the check posts established outside every village and city.

From Gibraltar Jack took his 500 c.c. Triumph Tiger over to Tangier and struck the most expensive city of his tour so far.

simpler style, almost all the things the heart can desire.
Heaven and earth seemed for a moment to be united, albeit in skeleton and unadorned fashion, in a mundane paradise. It was what the politicians call, in their inspired moments, a sweeping gesture.

But the Club Platform did set out all, and more, of the things that most people want to have done not only here but in many other places too.
The doing of them will take a far longer time than it took to write the platform. And nobody has even begun to reckon just how very much it will all cost, which does appear to be somewhat relevant even to a platform.

It was described by its sponsors, when it was presented to the gallant little band of reformers on Wednesday night, as a compromise between idealism and realism—even an historical document.
Certainly few of us have ever seen so much set down by so few for so many. But if so much of the pie is suspended in the skies, many of the speakers, in supporting the Platform, resolutely came down to earth. What could be more intensely practical than the insistence of beds to sleep in and cubicles with windows!

But if one is disposed to indulge in a little rillery, let it be remembered how the great institutions of democracy grew, and the democrats of its institutions with them. Hong Kong has been more than a mere link with China ever since it was founded. It has exerted an influence—an influence that varied with the times. And the beginnings of democracy here will, for good we hope, and not for ill, continue that influence in that aspect of the rival ways of life which is paramount and decisive in this epoch.

UNITED NATIONS WELCOMES HAGUE AGREEMENT

Resolution Commends Dutch And Indonesians UKRAINIAN PROPOSAL

Flushing Meadow, December 7.

The United Nations today officially welcomed The Hague agreement between the Dutch and the Republic of Indonesia.

The General Assembly, by a vote of 44 in favour, five opposed and two abstentions, approved a resolution which commended the Dutch, the Indonesians and the United Nations Commission for Indonesia for their contributions towards making The Hague agreement.

The resolution also welcomed the forthcoming establishment of the Republic of the United States of Indonesia as an independent, sovereign State.

Deadlock Over Reparations

London, December 7. Britain and the United States have reached a deadlock with the Soviet Union over an appeal by Yugoslavia for action to end an alleged breach of reparations clauses in the Yugo-Slav-Hungarian peace treaty.

The British Foreign Office spokesman today disclosed a long series of diplomatic exchanges in Budapest this autumn which completely failed to produce any action by the Great Power signatories to the peace treaty between Yugoslavia and Hungary.

The next move would be for Yugoslavia and Hungary to form a committee to adjudicate the matter under a neutral chairman or to appeal to the Secretary-General of the United Nations to choose a chairman.

Since it must be expected that Hungary will refuse to take part in such a committee the alternative appears to be to refer the matter to the International Court of Justice at The Hague. This happened in the similar deadlock over the claim by Britain and America that Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria had violated the human rights clauses of their peace treaties. Reuter.

U.S. PACIFIC FLEET WEAKENING

Washington, December 7. Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, Chief of Naval Operations, said today he is concerned over the weakening of the Pacific Fleet under the shift of naval strength from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

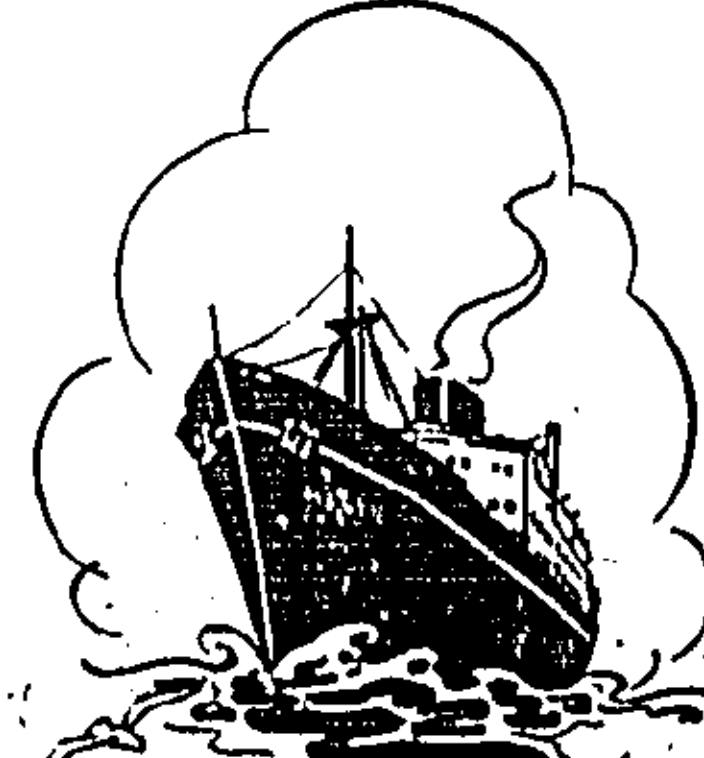

He said that he has been going over the ways and means of strengthening the Pacific Fleet since he took over office last month.

Admiral Sherman made the statement in answer to questions at a National Press Club luncheon at which he was the guest speaker.

The Navy began moving the heavier portion of its fleet to the Atlantic more than a year ago, Assistant Press.

Mr. Alexander On Hong Kong

London, December 7. The Defence Minister, Mr. A. V. Alexander, indicated today that Britain sees no early threat to Hong Kong, but that troop reinforcements sent there when the Chinese Communists swept into South China, would be kept in the Colony indefinitely.

Mr. Alexander told the House of Commons that the families of British soldiers serving in Hong Kong would be sent there as shipping and housing in the Colony allow. He said that the families of reinforcements will be on exactly the same footing in this matter as those of the permanent garrison.

There are already some 450 service families in Hong Kong. The garrison is in a very congested condition, and for this and other reasons, no serious increase in this number can be contemplated. —United Press.

Adenauer On German Army

Duesseldorf, December 7. Dr. Konrad Adenauer, the West German Federal Chancellor, said here today that East-West tension had sharpened recently and that the Germans might be called upon to take part in West European defence.

He told the Annual Congress of his Christian Democratic Party: "After what has happened we renounce war with genuine disgust. We are entirely opposed to war."

"The Allies, who have disarmed Germany, are now responsible for Germany's security. The tension between East and West has sharpened recently. It is to be hoped that there will be no war. But if two powers are making military preparations it is possible that something may happen. Germany will then be between the unprotected and the disarmed."

Dr. Adenauer added: "It cannot be asked that Germans should serve in foreign armies. We do not want to be mercenaries or hirelings."

"If a European Union asked Germany to contribute to West European defence then our people could take their part in this European army as well as the British, the French or other European nations."

"In view of the People's Army in Eastern Germany, we have to shout out to the Allies: 'You must not leave us without protection.'"

Dr. Adenauer said he hoped that "in spite of the opposition" of the British Labour Government, a European Federation would come into existence in the next few months.

He expressed the conviction that the Allied High Commissioners were determined to bring Germany back into the comity of nations. —Reuter.

Dutch Debate On Indonesia

The Hague, December 7. Mr. P. J. Oud, leader of the Freedom Party (the Party of the Foreign Minister, Dr. Dirk Stikker), told Parliament today that he did not think the Bill to transfer sovereignty to Indonesia was in conflict with the Dutch Constitution.

But he had serious objections to it from the policy point of view.

Speaking on the resumed debate in the Second Chamber, Mr. Oud said that the Freedom Party had still not made up its mind whether to support or reject the measure.

The arrangements made for the position of the Crown were most unsatisfactory, he said, while the economy and financial agreements were by no means entirely acceptable.

Declaring that the whole Bill was not very acceptable, Mr. Oud said that he expected a clear statement from the Government, especially from the Foreign Minister, Dr. Stikker, on the visit to Indonesia from which he has just returned.

But the Freedom Party leader stressed that rejection of the Bill would mean chaos and the weakening of Holland's international position. —Reuter.

U.S. Charges Russia With Exploitation Of Rich Manchuria

Flushing, December 7.

The United States charged today that the Russian exploitation of Manchuria had snatched rice from the plates of the hungry Chinese children. The American Ambassador, Philip Jessup, told the Assembly that there is acute fear that Russia would be continuing Communist aggression in the Far East. Dr. Jessup scoffed at the Russian charges that the United States is guilty of imperialism.

Behind-the-scenes manoeuvring paved the way for the adoption by the Assembly of the resolution that would keep Nationalist China's battle with Russia and the Chinese Communists before the United Nations for another year.

As a result of a last-minute amendment offered by Ecuador to the Latin-American resolution to send the dispute to the Little Assembly for "continuous examination and study" and report to the full Assembly next year, the plenary session was expected to vote to give Chiang Kai-shek's government a diplomatic lease on life.

Amendment Introduced. Dr. Homero Lafont of Ecuador following what observers reported had been extremely busy backstage activity, introduced an amendment to the Latin resolution. The amendment refers to the Little Assembly the Chinese charges and "any charges of violations of the principles contained" in the resolution which the United States designed.

Competent sources explained that this would enable the interim committee to deal not only with past actions of Russia as contained in the Nationalist charges but future violations of principles. This amounted to endorsement for the American-backed resolution. The United States immediately announced that it would support the amended Latin resolution. It had voted against the original version.

China's Ting-tu Tsiang apparently agreed to this compromise but expressed regret that the United Nations has not backed his own proposal. He acknowledged that nations are justified in trying to protect their investments in China, but said the Chinese people's stake is far greater.

He opined that recognition of the Chinese Communists would be short-sighted and warned the United Nations not to abdicate its responsibility to oppose Russia's "diabolical imperialism." —United Press.

NEGRI CLASH

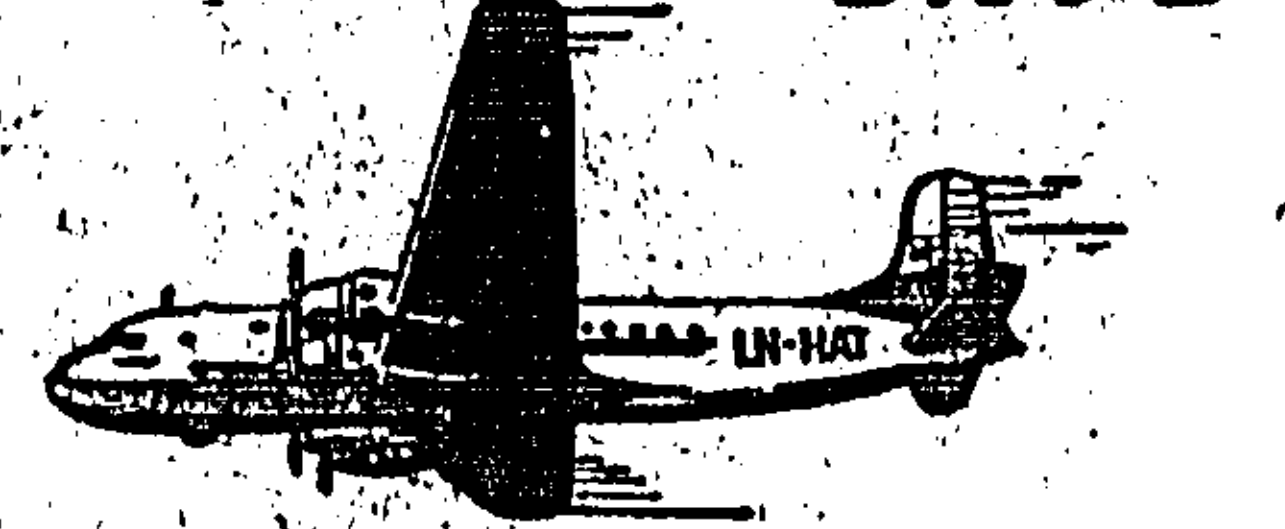

Singapore, December 7.

Four police were killed and seven seriously wounded on fighting off a fierce attack by 40 guerrillas in Negri Sembilan yesterday, it was officially disclosed today.

Three of the terrorists were killed and 10 believed wounded. The two-hour battle, in the Bagan area, ended with the wounded police, their ammunition exhausted, rushed the prepared positions held by the guerrillas and captured them. Three of the police killed were Malays and the other was a Chinese.

The hero of the action was a Malaya sergeant who, though mortally wounded, continued to direct the operation. He was wounded 13 times and died as reinforcements arrived. —Reuter.

UN Committee Votes To Internationalise Holy City By 35 Votes To 13

Lake Success, December 7.

First Step In New French Policy

Paris, December 7.

The changes in the French Army High Command, announced today, represent the first step in the policy initiated by the new French Defence Minister, M. René Pleven, of "taking politics out of the French Army."

Usually well informed military circles here regarded the changes as of unusual importance in the Atlantic defence plan.

The new appointments follow closely on the completion of the high level military administrative machinery of the Atlantic defence plan. One military official said in Paris today: "We are ready to go. The progress in co-ordinating and completing the arrangement between the 12 Atlantic Pact nations has been astonishing. Any competent Allied general could now take over in case of war and have an efficient mechanism at his disposal."

"The new stage is the shipping of modern arms and equipment to Western Europe."

Another military source said: "The full efficiency of the Atlantic defence scheme will only be achieved when adequate arms have been arranged, but it would be a mistake to imagine that the Atlantic nations are meanwhile defenceless."

"If the Atlantic Allies were attacked our effort on the military plane would be terrible."

BARTER TALKS

Manila, December 8.

Philippines government officials are working with a Thailand delegation on a barter trade agreement which is expected to be the first of many with dollar-short countries in the South East Asia Sterling area.

The Philippines expects to import rice, cattle and work animals in return for supplying Thailand with sugar, copra and rubber shoes. —Associated Press.

The United Nations Special Political Committee today voted by 35 votes in favour, 13 against and 18 abstentions, to place Jerusalem under an international regime, governed by the United Nations.

The Committee endorsed the principle that Jerusalem should be placed under a permanent international regime and that it should be established as a "corpus separatum" administered by the United Nations.

The Committee also decided that the Trusteeship Council should become the administering authority of Jerusalem. The voting on this was 32 to 16, with 11 abstentions.

The term "Jerusalem" included in this decision comprised the Municipality of Jerusalem plus the surrounding villages and towns, including Bethlehem.

The Committee decided that the Trusteeship Council, at its next session in January, should prepare a statute for Jerusalem and proceed immediately with its implementation.

Earlier, Dr. Charles Malik, of the Lebanon, told the Committee: "If you do not internationalise Jerusalem now I fear that it will not be internationalised for a long time to come."

Anyone voting against internationalisation and for the nationalisation and partition of Jerusalem is voting for the eventual internationalisation of the whole of Jerusalem in the foreseeable future, he declared.

He said that Jerusalem was at the Easternmost point of the territory in Palestine occupied by Israel. There was an Israeli thrust into the hinterland and Jerusalem stood at the very end of that thrust.

"It is proposed that the very tip of that thrust be partitioned between two nationalisms, two utterly different cultures, two utterly different religions, two utterly different outlooks on life," declared Dr. Malik.

"Is it seriously entertained that that is a practicable solution, that it will last, that it will bring about conditions of security and peace?"

Hoffman On Red Satellites

New York, December 7.

Mr. Paul Hoffman, the Marshall Plan Administrator, forecast today that given any kind of an opportunity certain of Russia's satellites would break away from her if Western Europe achieved a sound economy.

He told the National Association of Manufacturers that overwhelming majorities in most satellite countries wanted freedom but were held in check by minorities with machine-guns.

"If the satellites broke away and the Kremlin's plans for world conquest were thus thwarted, even the Kremlin might decide to live and let live."

Mr. Hoffman said that he thought the free nations had the cold war about half won, but added: "I suspect that it is the easiest half that lies behind us." —Reuter.

NOT GUILTY PLEA A SURPRISE

Sofia, December 7.

The plea of "Not Guilty" entered by the former Bulgarian Vice-Premier, Traicho Kostov, facing trial for treason and espionage, surprised the Court here which is trying him.

The charges which he denied were: (1) Capitulation to the Bulgarian Fascists in 1942; (2) Espionage for British intelligence; and (3) plotting with Yugoslav leaders to set up an anti-Soviet Balkan Federation.

Kostov did, however, plead guilty to anti-Soviet activities.

He also admitted that he had tried to increase his authority in the Party at the expense of the late Bulgarian Prime Minister, Mr. Georgi Dimitroff.

He said that he had had differences with Yugoslav leaders over the question of a Balkan federation. The Yugoslavs, he said, in the autumn of 1944 proposed to the Bulgarian Communist Party a Balkan federation in which Bulgaria would have become part of Yugoslavia and the Bulgarian army placed under the command of Tito.

The Yugoslav Vice-Premier, Edward Jarski, came to Sofia in November, 1944, to discuss this project with him but he told Mr. Kardel that such a federation was impossible at that time.

Furthermore, he said that the Bulgarian Communist Party could not agree to the Yugoslav demand that Bulgarian Macedonia be ceded immediately to Yugoslavia.

Kostov said he had informed Mr. Dimitroff of the Yugoslav proposal.

The indictment alleges that he did not discuss the plan and agreed to it behind Mr. Dimitroff's back. —Reuter.

Pakistan Support

Mr. Agha Shahi, of Pakistan,

supporting the Sub-Committee's recommendations, said that the debate on the future of Jerusalem had given expression to the thought that the United Nations was converting itself into a body which readily stamps with the weight of its approval a series of faits accomplis.

"Its approach to the Palestine question seems to have been dictated by what is claimed as the logic of crystallised situations and accomplished facts, rather than by those considerations of justice which are mentioned as being among the purposes and principles of the 'Charter,'" he said. —Reuter.

TURCO-GREEK CO-OPERATION

Ankara, December 8.

The Turkish and Greek Governments have approved a seven-point report recommending measures for close co-operation between the two countries, and will shortly set up in their respective Foreign Offices special commissions for cultural interchange.

A committee, including three Turkish and three Greek deputies, was set up in Strasbourg to discuss Greek-Turkish co-operation. —Reuter.

U.S. Agrees To Red Korea's Terms For Release Of Americans

Washington, December 7.

The United States agreed today to meet the Communist terms for the release of two Americans long held captive in Soviet dominated North Korea.

The Secretary of State, Mr. Dean Acheson, announced that in compliance with conditions by the North Korea "People's Republic" an American official will be sent to the frontier to receive the two officials of the Economic Co-operation Administration who have been held since September 22.

The men will be freed on Sunday if an authorized American official shows up at 11 a.m. local time at the border town of Aekong, the Communist radio at Pyongyang announced on Tuesday.

Mr. Acheson said the State Department will comply although it is not known whether the proposal is authentic.

This development followed closely on the presumed release of the Consul General, Mr. Angus Ward, and 18 others connected with the American Consulate at Mukden, in Communist China. But while their release promised to relieve tension, Mr. Acheson made it plain at a news conference that disapproving American policies remain unchanged.

Mr. Mollard's wire-trussed and weighted body, with the head smashed in, was found under the keel of his yacht, the Revelette, in Cannes harbour on Saturday.

Marseilles police said that Baumann told their colleagues in Oran that he hit Mr. Mollard on the head with a hammer in a violent scuffle on board the yacht after Mr. Mollard had accused him of stealing a loaf of bread.

He had taken 60,000 francs from his victim's pocket, gone to Marseilles for two days and then flown to Algeria.

Baumann, previously described as a German, was, in fact, born at Vevey, Switzerland, it was stated.

The late Mr. Mollard, who was 43, had not been seen since he left the Cannes Casino last week with 100,000 francs which he said he had won at roulette. But this money had not been found by the police in the Revelette's cabin. —Reuter.

The two ECA representatives held in North Korea are Alfred T. York and Albert E. Willis of Mescher of Kinderhook, New Brooklyn. They were aboard the ECA owned ship, Kimball, R. Smith which was taken to a North Korea port presumably by its native crew.

The release proposal was broadcast after Moscow, on a second request from the U.S., agreed to pass along an American demand to the North Korea Capital. —Associated Press.

EMERGENCY IN NIGERIA OVER

Lagos, December 8.

The state of emergency imposed by the Governor of Nigeria on November 26 after an outbreak of rioting will be removed on Thursday, December 8.

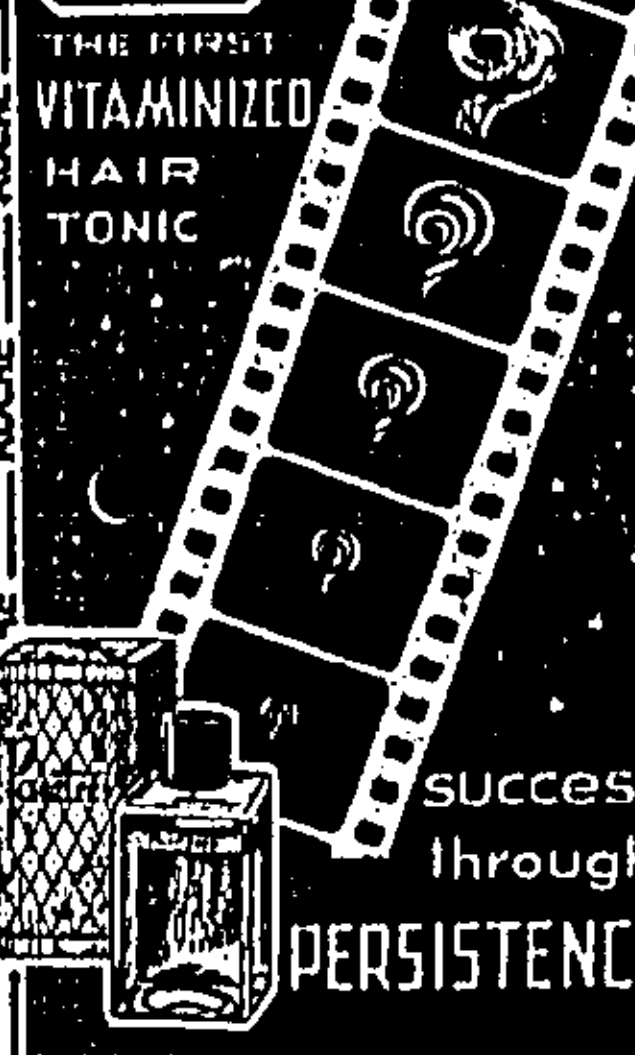

Announcing this in an official statement today, the Governor, Sir John Macpherson, warned that "if any disorder or incitement to disorder takes place I shall not hesitate to take emergency powers."

The Commission of Inquiry, appointed by the Governor after 18 miners had been killed at Enugu when police opened fire to protect the removal of explosives, today postponed its first sitting until December 12. It was to have opened tomorrow.

The Governor's statement tonight said that all arrangements would be made to ensure that all the interests affected should be given every facility to present evidence to the Commission. —Reuter.

RESCUE OF TRAPPED BRITISH SCIENTISTS MAKING PROGRESS

Acheson On A-Bomb "Leakage"

Washington, December 7. The Secretary of State, Mr. Dean Acheson, said today that the United States Army's wartime atomic bomb project approved Government licences for shipment of uranium compounds to Russia in 1943.

Mr. Acheson said that two export licences were granted in March, 1943, and another in April. In November a licence was granted for the shipment of 1,000 grams of heavy water to the Russians (heavy water is also used in atomic research).

The long-term records now held by the Department show that none of these export licences was permitted without the approval of the Government agency that developed the atom bomb, Mr. Acheson added.

The Department had no knowledge that any department documents, secret or otherwise, were made available to the Soviet Government without proper authorization as alleged by an ex-Army officer in a recent broadcast.

Meanwhile, General Leslie Groves, wartime head of the atomic bomb project, told the House of Representatives Committee on Atomic Energy today that President Roosevelt's confidential aide, never tried to get any atomic blueprints or maps from him.

The Committee was investigating allegations made in a broadcast within a month of the dropping of the atomic bomb in 1945. He said he knew that the Lend-Lease Administration was under pressure to give the Russians everything they sought and that a great deal of influence was being brought to bear. But he said that he did not know who exerted the pressure.

General Groves said that he found evidence of Russian spying within a month of taking charge of the atomic bomb project in 1942. He said he knew that the Lend-Lease Administration was under pressure to give the Russians everything they sought and that a great deal of influence was being brought to bear. But he said that he did not know who exerted the pressure.

New Czech Family Code Approved

Prague, December 7. The Czechoslovak National Assembly today approved without dissent a new family code making civil marriages obligatory, tightening divorce rules and allowing a wife to retain her own surname.

Civil marriage must now precede any Church ceremony.

The couple must decide beforehand on the surname of their children.

The laws, which come into force on January 1, also provide for complete equality between legitimate and illegitimate children.

They were described as being based on the Soviet code—the "master plan for the People's Democracies".

A woman Member, Dr. Pásková, told the Assembly that the new code would end the old system designed to preserve private property through monogamy and the rule of the male.

Whalers' Bay, Deception Island, December 7.

The Norseman plane to be used to rescue 11 British scientists stranded in the Antarctic on lonely, ice-bound Stonington Island, 400 miles to the South, came ashore piecemeal today from the 1,200-ton relief ship John Biscoe which is anchored in the Bay.

The crew packed the component parts of the plane on an improvised barge which was towed by launch through the maze of ice-floes to the lava-covered beach strewn with the skeletons of whales.

The John Biscoe's auxiliary Auster plane was put ashore yesterday.

"Biscoe House"—otherwise "Base B"—is now a hive of activity.

Members of the expedition are taking advantage of the continued spell of fine weather to press on with the preliminaries of "Operation Corkscrew"—the airborne rescue of the marooned scientists. This spot—a whaling station last used by the Norwegians in 1930—is a miniature ghost town. Many buildings are in ruins, the victims of snow and ice, with only their roof-tops showing. The tiny hospital is in a forlorn state, fragments of equipment of the operating theatre protruding through the snow.

Rooms in "Biscoe House" are being prepared for living quarters and for the miscellaneous stores.

Deception Island's part in the relief attempt will be essentially a radio one. It will flash ice and weather reports to the John Biscoe, the aircraft and Port Stanley.

The most up-to-date radio installation in the Falkland Islands Dependencies will guide the Norseman and Auster aircraft by means of a radio homing system—a radio beacon which will keep the pilots to their course during fog and possible blizzards.

Italian View On Eritrea Rioting

London, December 7. The Italian Ambassador, Signor Gallarati Scotti, visited the Foreign Office here today to draw the most serious attention to the painful situation of bloodshed in Eritrea, the Italian Embassy announced tonight.

The Italian Ambassador was received by the Permanent Under-Secretary at the Foreign Office in the absence of Mr. Ernest Bevin.

Count Carlo Borza, the Italian Foreign Minister, recently asked Britain to appeal to Ethiopia about the attacks on Italian subjects in the North African territory, once an Italian colony, and now under British administration.

"REBELS" BOW TO ORDERS

Rome, December 7. Italian peasant "rebels" bowed to police orders today and began a large-scale retreat from the holdings of land which they had seized in the Rome Province in the past five days.

Only a few ignored the orders of the armed police riot squads posted all over the province to keep off the land.

The majority of the peasants and their leaders accepted the orders to abandon their efforts to cultivate the seized land pending decisions from the land commissions hastily set up to consider claims to the uncultivated acres.

This development in Central Italy followed the pattern of the "peasants' revolt" further South in the past few weeks. There, too, peasants quit the land that they had seized after assurances that land commissions would consider their claims.

The gradual withdrawal of the peasants from the land around has eased the tension caused by the fear of police-peasant clashes like those in Calabria last month, when six agricultural workers lost their lives.

Despite the withdrawal, it was estimated tonight that about 20,000 peasants still hold about 6,000 acres of the 70,000 acres originally seized.

But most of these "squatters" were expected to withdraw soon. This action by the forces of the Ministry of the Interior, Signor Mario Scelba, represents another decisive Government victory against the Communists and left wing Socialists.

Leadership of the agricultural unions by these two left wing factions has been the main target of right wing attacks on the peasant movement.

Landowners today denied the claims of the peasants that all the land seized was uncultivated. They claimed that some of it was lying fallow after recent cultivation and only small portions had been uncultivated.

Trade Union Leaders Launch World Labour Federation

London, December 7. Leaders of 50,000,000 Trade Unionists in 53 countries finally launched the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions (ICFTU) in London today.

By a large majority they adopted a constitution pledging the Confederation to strive for security of employment and for its members' right to work where they choose.

No negative votes were cast but leaders of the French and Belgian Christian (Catholic) Workers' Unions, representing 1,300,000 workers, abstained. They gave no reasons.

The new organisation will carry the fight to Communism and the World Federation of Trade Unions (WFTU), which its members left earlier this year alleging Communist domination.

Later today a 20-man Executive together with a president and a secretary will be nominated. Paul Fiet of Belgium, the chairman of the conference which formed the new organisation, is expected to be elected President.

J. H. Oldenbrook of the Netherlands is warmest favoured in speculation for the executive secretaryship.

Neither the American Federation of Labour, the Congress of Industrial Organizations nor John L. Lewis' United Mine-workers sought office. They felt that if the principal officers came from the large countries that small countries would fear big nations domination.

HQ Issue

Mr. Oldenbrook wants the headquarters to be in London but leaders of the American AFL and the CIO say that if London is selected, the new international would be dominated by the British Trades Union Congress.

Paris, Brussels or Copenhagen would be acceptable to both the CIO and AFL. There was some speculation that The Hague may be selected as a compromise.

The Dutch, Swiss and Luxembourg Catholic Workers' Unions rejected invitations to attend the conference which formed the international, it was learned today.

The Canadian Christian Workers' Federation accepted but was advised by President Gaston Tesler of the Catholic international not to send delegates.

All were asked on the condition that if their Union joined the new international they must leave the Catholic International.

NZ Premier Favours Pacific Pact

Wellington, December 7. The Prime Minister elect, Sidney Holland, said today that his Conservative government would help Britain recover her leadership in world affairs and he declared himself in favour of a Pacific defence pact of non-Communist states.

The 56-year-old industrialist, whose Nationalist Party defeated the Labour government after 14 years, last week told reporters that, while continuing the foreign policy of the outgoing government, the Nationalist government will place special emphasis on strengthening Empire relationships.

Mr. Holland said he would give full support to the United Nations as the only means of insuring world peace, but added that if it is right to have an Atlantic Pact, then a Pacific Pact was a logical development of the same idea.

He could think of no reason why there should not be an early peace treaty with Japan, he added.

What you should know about Christmas TRADITIONAL visits of St. Nicholas with gifts began in this country among the Dutch, who called him Sant Nikolaas. Their English neighbors understood this as Santa Claus—hence that name. Among the Dutch,
Santa Claus made his rounds on a white horse; Scandinavian settlers made his steeds reindeer.

Work Of Centuries Done In Months
Athens, December 8.
Greece, under the Marshall Plan, has accomplished centuries of Governmental reforms in a matter of months, according to a report for 1949 by the Economic Co-Operation Administration Mission in Greece.
Finding "catastrophic" conditions, the Mission gave refugee care and repatriation first priority, the report said.

At the beginning of its term in July, 1948, "an estimated one-third of the entire population—or about 250,000 people—were fully or partially dependent on the Greek State for some type of assistance," the report said.
The military situation improved in 1949 and in September all but a handful of bandits had been driven from the country.
The changed situation enabled the Greek Government, with the assistance of the ECA Mission, to accomplish projects previously impossible.
"In 1949 about 500,000 refugees were removed from security centres and returned to their homes," the report said.
Second in importance to the repatriation of starved and ragged refugees, the report added, had been a work relief programme which, by July this year, covered 668 projects representing 68,825 jobs.
A long-range public assistance and child welfare programme is also being developed, the report continues.

SPECIAL PI CONGRESS SESSION DUE FOR SNARL

Manila, December 8.
Next week's special session of the Philippines Congress to canvass the national election returns appeared headed for a hopeless snarl as the Senate President Pro Tempore, Mr. Melacio Arranz, resigned both his membership and and Vice Presidency of the Liberal Party.
The action of Mr. Arranz, who two days earlier had stated his intention to preside over the Senate in defiance of the Acting Senate President, Mr. Jesus Cueneo, came as a caucus of Liberal Party followers of President Elpidio Quirino announced it had rejected a proposed reconciliation with the dissident party wing headed by Senator Jose Avellano.

Mr. Avellano, suspended from the Senate last Spring, ran as an opposing candidate in the November 8 elections.
Neither Mr. Avellano, who ran third, nor Dr. Jose P. Laurel, expuppet President under the Japanese and Nacionalista Party candidate who trailed Mr. Quirino by 187,000 votes, have conceded
Mr. Quirino's election. Followers of both have filed numerous protests alleging fraud and intimidation by Quirino followers at the polls.

Mr. Arranz charged the Quirino administration "...revealed its true colours by countenancing, nay, even apparently giving its blessings to the perpetuation of terrorism, frauds and other ways of betraying the sanctity of the ballot". Mr. Arranz continued that he now finds he has no common cause, no identity of purpose with the administration.
President Quirino today appointed Rodrigo Perez, Jr., Secretary of the National Election Commission, to the Commissioner's post in place of Solicitor General Felix Bautista. The Supreme Court yesterday upheld Mr.
Bautista's appointment was illegal.

U.S. Diplomatic Conference Is Postponed

Bangkok, December 7.
The start of the Far Eastern American diplomat conference has now been set back to February 13 to give Ambassador Philip Jessup more time to study the situation.
It was originally planned to hold the session at the U.S. Embassy some time in early January.
Mr. Jessup is expected to visit various nations before arriving in Bangkok for the parley. The meeting, similar to the one held in November by British Far Eastern diplomatic military leaders at Singapore, will last four days.

Ambassadors are to attend from Korea, Ceylon, Philippines, Australia, New Zealand, and India as well as mission heads from Saigon, Batavia, Singapore, Rangoon, Pakistan and Hong Kong.
The sessions are top secret and it is not decided yet whether anything will be announced to this end. It is described as an exchange of information. Delegates will be housed in the Siamese government-operated Ratanakosin Hotel. Findings and recommendations after a general review of the historic changes occurring in Asia will be reported to the State Department as a help in determining American policy in the Far East.—Associated Press.

WATCH FOR THE OPENING DATES

Allotment Of New PO Boxes.

The great demand for post office boxes is expected to be eased somewhat in the near future with the allotment of 800 new boxes which the postal authorities are now preparing for installation.

The additional boxes, which the authorities ordered some time ago, are expected to be ready for release to the public in about two months. They will be installed in the present sites specially set aside for these boxes.

Three hundred will be added to the General Post Office and 500 in the Kowloon Post Office at Tsimshatsui.

The Postmaster General, Mr. J. H. B. Lee, told the "China Mail" yesterday that in letting out the new boxes priority would be given to applicants already on the waiting list. There are about 2,000 applicants but it is not known how many of them still require a box.

Further boxes might be added later, said Mr. Lee, if space could be found.

Teen-Agers Sentenced For Larceny

Three teen-agers appeared before Mr. A. D. Scholtes at Central yesterday on three charges of larceny and receiving of stolen property.

They were Yeung Tak-ming, aged 17, who was charged with stealing a purse belonging to Mrs. Honneger on December 5 at the Swatow Laco Co. China Building; stealing a purse containing a platinum watch, a diamond ring, a gold ring and HK$40, belonging to Mrs. P. S. Park on November 29 at the Canada Co. in D'Aguiar Street; and with stealing a purse containing HK$350 and U.S.$25 and two pairs of glasses, the property of Miss Wong Tat at the Union Dispensary in Queen's Road Central.

Yiu Ches-kit, aged 18 and Yau Tak-ye, aged 17 were charged with aiding and abetting the larcenies on all the occasions.

Detective Sub Inspector J. Martin said that the three defendants usually went into stores together. They would watch a lady customer place her handbag on the counter and the first defendant would then take it and pass it to either the second or third defendant. If an alarm was raised the two others would attempt to block any pursuit of the one who had the bag.

Inspector Martin added that as the first complainant, Mrs. Honneger, had left the Colony he offered no evidence on that charge against the three defendants. The bag had contained HK$350 and U.S.$10 which had not been recovered. Inspector Martin also said that no money had been recovered on the other two occasions but a diamond ring, a platinum watch and two pairs of glasses had been recovered.

The defendants said that they had come to Hong Kong from Swatow only 12 days ago. Each was sentenced to 12 months and recommended to be deported for life.

An American Congressman just back from Japan says Japan will be self supporting by 1952 and may be so by 1952.

He is Representative Otto E. Passman, Democrat of Louisiana. Some quarters said his is an optimistic attitude.

He had just completed a tour of the Pacific as a member of a House of Representatives Appropriations Sub-committee seeking to learn more about how American public funds are being spent in that area of the world.

"It is my belief," Rep. Passman said in an interview, "that in 1952 or 1953 Japan will be self supporting economically so that the U.S. will be able to cease entirely the economic assistance we are giving Japan now."

"The economy of Japan is surprisingly good," he said.

"Progress there is ahead of that anticipated by many leaders. The people are eating well and working hard."

Rep. Passman said General MacArthur has done an excellent job and has surrounded himself with a group of capable assistants.

He did not attempt to explain just how Japan is going to become self supporting within the next two or three years, other than to say he believes the nation's industries are making good progress and the export trade will continue to expand.

Rep. Passman also said he felt millions of dollars can be saved from the amount the U.S. is spending in Japan and elsewhere in the Pacific.

He emphasized, "I do not say funds at present are being wasted, but reductions can be made without hindering recovery in the Pacific countries."

He said he is not at liberty to go into how reductions can be made but that such recommendations will be considered by Congress when it reconvenes next month.

Rep. Passman was one of four Congressmen who, in addition to visiting Japan, also went to South Korea, Okinawa and other Pacific island areas.

He said that while they were in Japan the group conferred with General MacArthur, members of the Diet, and also Japanese bankers and industrialists.

"The principal subject of our discussions was the 'war' of our dislocations or groups," he said, "was Japan's financial problems. He said he could not go into details of these talks, because they are the property of Congress. He said his committee probably will make a report after Congress reconvenes giving details of their findings."—Associated Press.
